BRITISH PUBLIC SORE AT PAULHAN, FRENCH AVIATOR

Wanted White, The Englishman, to Get Daily Mail's $50,000.

White Declares the Contest Was Fair.

FRANCE JOLIFIES OVER IT

London, April 28.—Paulhan, French aviator, winner of the Daily Mail $50,000 prize, today said the trip from London to Manchester could be made with no stops. He said he would have done so yesterday had he been light. The 70 minutes gained by Paulhan were made up by White today. He descended at 2:50 a. m. an hour and 20 minutes before Paulhan reascended at Letchfield. He alighted a second time 75 miles from Manchester. He may finish the trip.

"Paulhan is the world's greatest aviator. Though I didn't win the prize, I wish Paulhan luck," said Claude C. White.

"I would like to have finished without a stop. It got too dark and cold, my admiration for White's plucky flight is the highest," said Louis Paulhan.

The public is somewhat aggrieved at Paulhan for taking 70 minutes the start over White. The story that White and Paulhan entered an agreement not to start till today is officially denied. The Daily Mail, donor of the prize, said, "Cordial congratulations to Paulhan are mingled with sincere sympathy for his gallant rival."

The people of Letchfield displayed ill feeling toward Paulhan upon his alighting. A guard of police was placed around the machine till its ascent was made.

The contestants denied that there was any agreement not to start until today. They say the race was honestly run. White showed his good will by telegraphing Paulhan, "If take this opportunity of offering my heartfelt congratulations on your splendid performance. The best man won." He lauded Paulhan and the Frenchman packed his machine for the return in the rain to London this afternoon.

Paulhan's average time was 41.4 miles an hour. White was 38.5. There was great disappointment in England because White was outwitted. White abandoned his plan to continue the trip to Manchester.

Francis Hejolics.
Paulhan is a lion in France. Excitement over his great flight is high. He will be given a great reception on his return.

Washington Woesers Pick Future For Roosevelt.

Washington, April 28.—Theodore Roosevelt for the United States senate as a successor to Chauncey Depew. This is the way the political prophets and woesers in Washington have the situation in New York state figured out today. It seems to be generally believed that this offers a solution in the Empire state and the nation at large. It is agreed that the Hughes appointment leaves Colonel Roosevelt as the probable dictator of the party in New York state, and party leaders in Washington believe that Mr. Roosevelt will realize that strong factor in the race in New York state will be necessary to Republican success.

Tom Taggart Defeated in Indiana Democratic Convention Today by Governor Marshall and Friends

Convention to Endorse Candidate For United States Senator Against Beveridge
---Land With Drawals.

Indianapolis, April 28.—United States Senator Shively, chairman of the Democratic state convention, in his speech this morning charged Indiana insurgents with inconsistency in endorsing Taft on the platform and condemning the tariff bill he approved. He said the Republicans confessed that the protective tariff is unjust and oppressive and fosters monopolies.

Governor Marshall was upheld by a majority of the Democratic party after a fight this afternoon. His plan for senatorial endorsement was accepted by a close margin and his platform adopted. Marshall's administration has condemned the tariff law denounced as a masterpiece of injustice, the insurgents of Indiana charged with cowardice for endorsement of the bill in a resolution upholding Beveridge. The platform favored the income tax and the ship subsidy was condemned and the court's power of injunction denounced. It favored conservation withdrawal of lands from public entry.

The platform of the committee was adopted without change. Jubilation over the victory of Marshall men amounted to hysteria and lasted 15 minutes. The victory was won by 30 votes. The convention is bound to endorse a man to contest the senatorship with Beveridge. John W. Kern was nominated for senator.

Republicans Confer.

Washington, April 28.—Indiana politics was discussed at the white house for more than an hour, when E. A. Lee, Republican state committee chairman, called to see President Taft. He assured the president that the Republicans would win the congressional elections by at least 50,000 majority in that state.

He told Taft there was no doubt as to the return of Senator Beveridge. With the exception of a few members of the organization the party is behind Beveridge, he said. He added that the real issue was that Senator Beveridge and President Taft are broad-minded and realize that even if the tariff bill has not received the endorsement of the party in Indiana, the Republicans are still with the administration.

Hyde Not Cast Down By Loss of His Bond

Kansas City, April 28.—Hyde, who is accused of murdering Colonel Swope, is undismayed by the revocation of his bond and the remanding to jail. He predicted his own acquittal. Attorney Walsh for the defense said the court's action will prejudice the jury against the defendant. Mrs. Hyde called on her husband at the jail before 7 o'clock this morning. She was deeply affected by the turn of the case, but is confident.

Hyde read the morning papers in his cell this morning and commented on the accounts of the case. He held a consultation with Attorney Walsh regarding the day's program. During the visit of Mrs. Hyde she cheered her husband, predicting an early vindication.

Attorneys for the defense say they will file an affidavit, asking for another judge to hear the case. They allege that Latahau is prejudiced.

Tom Swope testified that he saw Hyde drop and crush a capsule intentionally. He found two tablets on the ground and he knew the tablets contained cyanide of potassium, as he smelled his hands and they had that odor.

At the conclusion of the Hyde murder trial, shortly before 6 o'clock last evening, Judge Latahau, from the bench, announced that the developments of the day had increased the presumption of guilt to such a degree that he ad-

STATE BOARD OF EQUALIZATION CONSIDERS TAX RAISES.

Whether the committee from McCracken county had any effect before the state board of equalization relative to securing a reduction of the increased assessment made by the state, will not be known until every county has made its protest. The assessment of nearly every county in the state was increased, and the board will decide on any reductions later. County Judge Alben W. Barkley and Mr. W. F. Paxton returned early this morning from Frankfort, where they appeared before the board yesterday to urge the revocation of the 25 per cent raise on the valuation of McCracken county property. Attorney J. D. Moccant, Richard Davis and H. A. Katterjohn, deputy county court clerk, will return tonight.

GRAND PARADE OF VETERANS TAKES PLACE AT MOBILE

Stirring Scene of Chivalry and Beauty on Streets of Old Town.

General Gordon Elected Commander.

LITTLE ROCK WINS MEETING

Mobile, April 28.—Fifteen thousand Confederate veterans marched through the streets of Mobile today in the reunion parade. The veterans drowned the music with the Rebel yell. Ambulances and carriages followed to pick up the ones prostrated by the walk.

At the election last night General George W. Gordon was elected commander-in-chief and General Bennett H. Young, of Kentucky, was elected commander of the Tennessee department and General Vandant, commander of the Texas department.

The Election.

General George W. Gordon of Memphis was elected commander-in-chief of the United Confederate Veterans, and Little Rock, Ark., was chosen as the place for holding the next annual reunion. The actual work of the convention was conducted today, consisting of hearing reports and disposing of other routine matters.

The selection of Little Rock has been freely predicted, and though the Arkansas city lacked a majority on the first ballot, she was so far in the lead that a vote to make the selection unanimous carried with a roar. The vote stood: Little Rock 1,470; Chattanooga 649; Oklahoma City 17; Houston none.

When Texas was reached the veterans saw how things were going, and threw their strength to Arkansas. The endorsement of New Orleans as the meeting place for 1915 was contained in a resolution favorably reported and adopted. It recited that New Orleans proposes to hold a Panama canal exposition in 1915, that the Crescent City had asked the veterans to endorse the exposition and attend in April, 1915. It was resolved, therefore, that each convention until 1914 take this same action, and that the reunion of 1914 follow the idea and designate New Orleans as the meeting place.

Gen. Mickle Reports.

The convention was late in coming to order because of the delay of committee in reporting. Adjt.-Gen. William E. Mickle made his annual report, which showed thirty new camps had been rechartered during the year and ten old camps were reinstated. The general seemed ready to read the report, but two bands were playing Dixie, so he gave it up and distributed printed copies.

The Sons of Veterans marched in to the tent during the session and through their officers presented greetings to the other organization. The credentials committee reported to the tent, and a voting strength of 2,321.

The tent was in much disorder. Gen. Evans, presiding, feeble with age and just out of a sick bed, pounded in vain for silence, and finally appointed sergeants-at-arms to clear the aisles.

Clarence J. Owen, commander-in-chief of the Sons of Veterans, was presented and received an ovation. Owen spoke spiritedly of state's rights, and declared if the United States is to exist as a nation it must recognize and adopt the means for which the south fought.

Committee Report.

On motion of Gen. Mickle, 3 p. m. today was fixed as the time for selecting the next reunion city. This was approved by all the contesting cities, which welcomed an opportunity to do a little more missionary work. The committee on history and battle abbey made reports.

Gen. Bennett Young, of Louisville, read the history report. He deprecated the tendency of writers to misrepresent the south. He declared that of all the southern soldiers in northern prisons, 12 of every 100 died, while of northern soldiers in southern prisons 9 of every 100 died.

"And the greatest monument to southern soldiers," he said, "is the death list of the north."

The report was received with

Venire of Jurymen From Marshall County Arrives This Afternoon to Try Former County Clerk Smedley

BACK AT WORK.

Those, Who Are Not Accepted Will be Permitted to Return to Benton Tonight—Trial Starts.

Trial of former County Court Clerk Hiram Smedley on the charge of forging the name of former County Judge R. T. Lightfoot, to a county warrant for $25 in November, 1907, was commenced in criminal court this afternoon. The jury was chosen from Marshall county, and the first twelve men, whose names were called, were accepted by both sides. The jury is composed of: B. B. Ferguson, C. N. Holley, H. B. Carter, J. L. Griffith, A. J. Dukes, Leon Jones, Ira Morgan, James Ford, G. B. Johnson, J. A. Hunt, F. A. Higgins and George W. Hamlet.

The venire from Marshall county arrived in the city this afternoon at 1:15 o'clock over the Nashville, Chattanooga & St. Louis railroad, and at once reported to Circuit Judge William Reed. The jurors not accepted for service will return to Benton tonight at 6 o'clock. Sheriff George Houser summoned the venire yesterday from Marshall county following the orders of Judge Reed, when it was found almost impossible to secure a jury of impartial jurors from McCracken county, owing to the wide publicity given the charges against Smedley.

Forty men were summoned by Sheriff Houser. Their names are: James Ford, Leonard Jones, A. J. Dukes, J. L. Griffith, S. A. Wade, J. H. Goben, George W. Hamlet, F. A. Higgins, Ira Morgan, G. B. L. Cole, S. L. Morgan, T. J. Woods, and E. N. Holley.

Short Session.

Only a short session of circuit court was held this morning, and no trials were held. King Keeling, colored, given two years in the penitentiary for malicious shooting, filed a motion for a new trial, but Judge Reed overruled his motion. Also Ed King, colored, given eighteen months in the penitentiary for malicious shooting, made a motion for a new trial but it was overruled.

The trial of Jim Taylor, charged with petit larceny, was continued until the second day of the September term.

The trial of Will Hicks, charged with false swearing, was continued until the September term.

The charge of petit larceny against Tom Jackson, colored, was reduced to a charge of trespass and he was fined $20 by agreement.

Judge Reed drew the names of the jurors for the special session of criminal court set for next July.

Suits Filed in Circuit Court.

R. M. Allen filed suit against the Illinois Central railroad for $2,000 damages for injury to his health by spending a night in an unheated coach, the result of alleged negligence on the part of the railroad employees. He sues for $2,000. Several weeks ago he filed suit for $5,000 and it was transferred to the federal court where the petition was dismissed without prejudice.

Ludie Harmon filed suit for divorce from George Harmon alleging cruel treatment. The couple married July 18, 1909, and separated October 17, 1909.

W. R. HOLLAND'S WILL IS PROBATED TODAY.

The will of former Sheriff W. R. Holland, who was a large real estate owner, was probated this morning in county court. All of his real estate and personal property is left to his wife, Mary E. Army Beats Yale.
West Point, April 28.—My hitting when hits went runs, and by spectacular fielding, West Point prevented Yale from scoring, and won 3 to 0.

Langford Wins Fight.
Philadelphia, April 28.—Sam Langford and Stanley Ketchell fought six rounds before the National Athletic club last night, before a great crowd. The negro had the better of the mill, no decision being allowed here.

Ketchell forced the fight at the start and also in the second round. Heavy exchanges in the third ended in a clinch. In the fourth Langford was more aggressive, bringing blood in a stream from Ketchell's nose. Langford punched Ketchell's damaged nose again in the fifth, and fell from a missed right swing as the going sounded.

In the first round each landed hard blows to the head. The negro again played up Ketchell's damaged nose, and the later, weak on his legs, clinching repeatedly. Langford played for the damaged nose and Ketchell was covered with blood when the round and fight ended.

News of Theatres

Vandeville has captured three more Paducah amateurs, who have joined the Southern Amusement company at St. Louis, Mo. George Rock and Les Walker, left on the Dick Fowler this morning for St. Louis where they will join the latter's brother, Osburn Walker, the barrel-jumper. Les Walker will do contortions and George Rock will play black face.

Hammerstein Quits Grand Opera.
New York, April 28.—Oscar Hammerstein has abandoned the grand opera field. Through Samuel Lintermeyer, his counsel, he announced to night that he had capitulated to the exactions of the artists, who demanded a salary which, if paid, meant bankruptcy. Both his own and the Metropolitan Opera company faced deficits, he said, for the season just closed.

At the Star Theater.
Earl McClure and his English Juggling Girls come to the Star for the last three days of this week with the highest kind of a reputation as a first class feature act and will be an act that is quite different from the ordinary Vandeville act.

Marvel, the dancer and singer, is said to have some new and novel dancing steps and introduces some good comedy songs in his act.

Mysterious Miss Jewell's mind reading scene will in all probability lay claim to being the feature act of the bill. Her performance is very mysterious and is productive of much laughter. Scores of questions of all sorts, sealed in envelopes, will be submitted to her for correct answers.

If you have lost anything or if you are undecided as to some new venture it will pay you to seek her advice and answer. You will be at liberty to ask her any and all kinds of questions.

Wallace Park Notice.
Work of getting the park ready for the coming summer season is progressing, present efforts being especially directed toward getting the dance pavilion in fine shape. This building is being enclosed with a fine mesh wire from floor to roof and the dancing floor will be considerably repaired, cleaned and resurfaced. It is expected to have this part of the work completed by next week so that early dancing parties may be accommodated.

Not Exaggerating.

"What's wrong now?" asked the man.

One way the British public has of them to the prize. Paulhan, the

It may not have occurred to some of our national legislators, who carried away by the agitation of the "uplift" magazines over the proposed increase in the postal rates, are vehemently denouncing the railroad bills proposed by President Taft, that he was elected on platform and stump utterances, pledging him to secure these very laws.
We suspect that under the cloak of hypocritical concern for the people, some of the more radical insurgents have their hands extended backward, palm upturned to the railroads they abuse. It is more likely that some of them would use this method of concealing their purpose, than that the president would deliberately prepare a law in favor of the railroads and openly ask congress to enact it, especially since he advocated exactly the kind of measures he proposed, before he was elected and the people knew and endorsed his program by their votes.

THE COMING ISSUE.

Judge McFarland, of Memphis, who delivered the annual oration at the reunion of Confederate veterans, defined a political situation, the existence of which must be forced prominently into the consciousness of the American people before long: the old combat between state and federal authority. With the awakening of the nation to the necessity for immediate prohibition of forest waste, fuel monopoly and the seizure of water power sites by private interests; and for control of industrial combinations and interstate railroad lines, came a demand on the federal government to exercise its authority. The government made a futile and feeble effort to respond; the clamor increased and charges of bad faith were heard. It was not until the government called a federal judge and few first-class corporation lawyers to its assistance that the trouble was discovered. The people had, by our dual system of government, provided against this very exercise of federal authority.
While the federal government enacted laws, prohibiting monopolies and rebalancing and discrimination, the corporations were organized under state laws, and the states bid defiance another to attract capital and the equality of their laws. The state road system, complete with

POLITICAL POSSIBILITIES.

didate to represent Graves county in the next legislature. Judge Webb is Judge of Graves county. Judge Ed-Croftland, Houston Brooks and Will Frost, all of Graves county, are probable candidates for the state senate.

—Cadix Record.

Ruby Laffoon.

As the time for making up the Democratic ticket for the next state election approaches, the friends of Hon. Ruby Laffoon, of Madisonville, are conferring with his name for state auditor, and his friends are confined to no section of Kentucky. As a candidate for state treasurer in the last race, his popularity soon became of smaller state corporations, granted rebates, cornered the market, discriminated against patrons and towns, wronged the consumer and beat investors in the stock market with their cheating watered stock, and in every instance the national government was checked.

Attorney General Wickham said the solution of the problem is federal incorporation of concerns engaged in interstate commerce. His reason is that the whole nation is at once in the same way and in equal degree interested in operations of these concerns. The authority to incorporate and control their organization is implied by authority already granted and assumed to regulate them.
Divided state responsibility over the constituent companies of these corporations, will not regulate them. The states have utterly failed to make even an impression on a single trust.

The interstate commerce commission with amplified authority to regulate railroads, backed by the commerce court of review, as proposed in President Taft's measure, and the issuance of stock under federal surveillance and the publicity of corporation affairs already provided for, are steps in this direction, which amount to no more than exercise or extension of authority already vested in the national government and long since recognized, but never demanded until this day.

Authority over forest reserves, fuel and ore deposits has been assumed by the federal government with little opposition; but control of water power sites apparently calls down on the devoted heads of the patriots at Washington denunciations, especially from those, who enjoy privileges under the system of divided responsibility, denied them under ample federal authority. Some of the governors, who were called together by President Roosevelt for the purpose of discussing conservation and other timely topics, expressed themselves as opposed to further extensions of federal authority. But reference to historical party principles and recurrence to the constitutional debates in which fear of a monarchy dictated arguments against centralization, will avail nothing. Those matters in which their experience showed them the federal government at that time could better look after the welfare of the people than the state could, our forefathers did not hesitate to entrust to federal care, and they wrote the constitution elastic enough to allow for any further national expansion. Whenever Jefferson or any other president of the old day, found it expedient to stretch the federal authority, he did not hesitate to do so, and he cannot be accused of violating the principles of state rights.
It is absurd in this day, to treat the old horror of a monarchy as if the principles of our dual government were bound up in keeping its memory green. We are menaced with another form of tyranny, industrial feudalism, whose castles are erected in the fastnesses of the "twilight zone" between federal and state authority, and whose security rests in ancient jealousy between state and nation.

We, of today, are beginning to look upon even the tariff as a national, not a local question, and are demanding that our representatives cease inquiring "what does my state get out of this," and direct their attention to what is best for the country as a whole. We find that our federal government is much more responsive to public sentiment than the states, that our federal judiciary is freer from suspicion of playing political, than our national legislative and executive officers are less subject to corrupting influences.

Those, who would check federalism, conscientiously concerned lest it lead to irreparable impairment of our institutions, can check it only in one way: by forcing the states to do that which the people are demanding of the federal government.
If the states will take charge of the water power sites and protect them and will discharge every obligation to the public by proper exercise of the functions, federalism will gain no ground. But the main thing is to conserve our resources, and protect our people from the rapacity of private interests, whether that is done by state or nation.

Judge McFarland, and others like him, will have to get away from ancient dogma, else they stand just where Joe Cannon stood when the ward movement of the Republican party ran him down. Results are what we are after, and it remains so generally manifest that he had no opposition for this nomination. During the campaign he was in general demand for speeches, and he campaigned in a great majority of the counties to the utmost satisfaction of the local committees and the thousands who met and heard him. In the election he was among the foremost on his ticket, running ahead of it in several counties. No part of the defeat of the ticket was chargeable to him. He has capacity as a lawyer and business man and would make a most satisfactory state auditor. He has not fully made up his mind to make the race, but has the matter under serious consideration. If he finally concludes to offer his friends believe there will be no stronger candidate in the field.—Owensboro Messenger.

for Judge McFarland, and those who believe with him, to show that the states can do that which they have failed to do since this government was instituted: protect the people.
They must not expect the people to cherish the doctrine of state rights at the expense of the very liberties those state rights once were expected to preserve.

GEN'L CONFERENCE

tage of its obliteration. As a rule the men engaged in large city work and the younger element are found in favor of its obliteration. The fundamental principle which these contend for is to remove the limit absolutely, but this does not mean that a preacher cannot be removed any time for cause or for inefficiency or whenever the best interest of the church justifies, but they contend that arbitrary removal at the end of four years is wrong in principle. A pastor, say especially of a big church or other special work, at the end of four years has just about got plans matured when he can begin to accomplish real good results. He is just beginning to blaze the way. This can be perhaps more forcibly emphasized with a conventional office. Take for instance the office of secretary of home missions, a position created at the last general conference and which Dr. John R. Nelson is filling.
He, of course, had to begin at the bottom and build up the work in detail and just now has got it into working order. If he is removed and a new man put in his place it is apparent that his four years' work goes for naught. It is the same in any of the connectional offices and hence the advocates of the affirmative side of this question declared that logically the limit should be removed.

Dr. Strong, a man of eminent authority, who spent some time in the south a year ago, is quoted as saying "that the problem of training of the south had to be solved by the Methodists and Baptist, the dominant denominations in this territory. The Methodists have the fervor of the evangelistic spirit, but the twentieth century civilization is to be a civilization of cities and the greatest drawback to Methodism is the four-year limit on its pastors."

Spiritual Condition.

Thousands of loyal Methodists in the south would like to see the conference take hold of the spiritual condition of the church and re-emphasize the evangelistic platform in the Methodist economy. For years the Methodists have led all denominations in entering new territory and gaining new recruits from the outside world, but to a great extent, so declared by some of the students of the church, it is a deplorable fact that the edge has been taken off of the evangelistic enthusiasm. Many are looking for some action from the general conference which will resuscitate the evangelistic endeavor in the ranks of the settled pastorate for its absence has led to means which have induced a good deal of temporary or surface work, the disastrous effects of which can only be offset by some thorough methods.
Surely the M. E. church with all its breadth and comprehensiveness ought to prepare men for doing a work that was so prominent in the apostolic church and the church in Wesley's day.

Supervision of Missions.
The increasing work in foreign fields has created an urgent demand for a bishop to have special supervision over this work, and it is expected that a demand will be made upon the general conference to select a man for this work—the bishop being that one bishop should be designated to have supervision of the foreign missions, not that he should be called a missionary bishop nor that he should be required to live continuously in the foreign fields, but one whose principal effort should be devoted to this important department.

In this connection several names are mentioned, but the consensus of opinion seems to be fixed on Dr.
Walker Lambuth, general secretary of the board of missions, as the logical man for such an appointment.

If this should be decided on and Dr. Lambuth made one of the chief pastors, the same consensus of opinion has fixed upon three men as his possible successors as missionary secretary—Dr. W. W. Pinson, Dr. O.
E. Brown and Dr. C. M. Bishop, in the order named.

The Board of Missions has now a General Secretary, elected by the conference, and two assistants, appointed by the Board of Missions, but the plan now is that this should be changed, as it is apparent an executive secretary, who shall remain in the office all the time, is necessary, and the Conference will be asked to adopt this idea, and in that case Dr. Ed. F. Cooke is the logical man for the executive office, but his election, or appointment, must be delegated to the Board of Missions.
Just as is the appointment of the present assistants.

The trend of sentiment is in favor of a better organization of the Board of Missions and church extension, and the two women's boards and the Birmingham Conference appointed a commission to provide a plan to coordinate the work.

The demand for closer or co-ordinate relations comes from the administrative side of the church, and many women believe that the two women's boards—that is, the Foreign Mission and the Home Mission Boards—in the local churches should be consolidated. The work of both these boards, as a rule, is done by the same women, and they might do it all in half the time it now requires.

The idea is that the Home Mission Board, the Church Extension Board and the Women's Home Mission Board be combined under one board, and the Woman's Foreign Mission Board be combined or united with the General Mission Board.

Woman's Side.
This question has created a whole lot of discussion. The women, or at least some of them, are demanding that they be secured the full rights of the laity of the church. A writer in favor of the petition sets forth in a recent article the contentions of the women in the following comprehensive statement:

"We women honestly believe the church are asked to take a forward step by extending to its women the same original rights, and those added thirty-four years ago to its great gain, that is given to the laymen of the church. That this movement will also bring to it increased efficiency, no one can doubt who has noted the capability of Methodist women in serving the church as missionary so-

"The church has felt the bad effect of a restrictive law that forbade the selection of its lay officials and representatives from two-thirds of its membership, thus leaving it of the legal right to fill those responsible positions from only one-third of its membership. That restrictive law which draws the sex line in our church hinders mental and spiritual qualifications, for it has disqualified women possessing these simply because they were women and qualified men who did not possess them simply because they were men. Has this defrauded the church of its right to use its best in numberless instances?"

"The women who have entered appeal the movement are not actuated by personal motives, but feel a great principle is involved that they dare not yield because of opposition from any source. They have been greatly encouraged by the assurances of many leading men and women in the church of their hearty endorsement and support. Letters bidding them "Godspeed" are received in every call; so they take courage and go on, turst in the God of truth and right."

Changes in Church Policy.
A general discussion as to suggestions changes in church policy has been engaged in for months, and a whole lot of ideas have been produced and a whole lot of things suggested that will never be heard of in the conference, and a whole lot that will receive due consideration in the proper way.

Certain quarters in the West are clamoring for the dropping of the word "South" from the name of the church; some think the abolition of the office of Bishop and substituting thereof a Superintendent; abolishing the office of Presiding Elder, the reducing of the episcopacy to a limit of eight years instead of a life tenure; the election of Presiding Elders by a vote of annual conference and giving the appointment of pastors are needed changes.

Connectional Offices.
Some changes in the connectional offices located in this city, have been freely talked of in Methodist circles.
It is said Dr. H. M. Dullabaugh does not want the office of editor of the Epworth League Board; but prefers to go back into the pastorate. In that event Dr. F. S. Parker, his most efficient assistant, is the logical man as his successor, and he will in all probability be elected.

Dr. James A. Cannon of Virginia and Dr. J. B. Hammond, present incumbent, are most prominently talked of as Secretary of the Board of Education.

It looks at this distance as if Dr.
E. H. Chappell, Sunday school editor; Mr. D. M. Smith and Dr. A. J.
Lamar, Book Agents of the Methodist Publishing House; Dr. W. F. Mc-Murry, Secretary of Church Extension; Dr. Gross Alexander, editor of the Quarterly Review, and Dr. G. H.

Winton, editor of the Christian Advocate, will be re-elected to their respective positions, provided, however, the bishopric lightning does not strike any of them, which is always a possibility.

Three Very Live Issues.
It seems to be the consensus of opinion that the three questions that will bring on the largest amount of debate will be the Vanderbilt University controversy, change of name of the church by dropping the word South, and the woman's question, all of them more or less rather delicate to deal with and over which considerable acrimony is liable to arise.

The Vanderbilt question will come up in the form of several memorials from the annual conferences making the General Conference "to take such conclusive action as will fully and finally assure to the church the ownership and control of the university, with all the rights accorded to the church and bishops under the university charter and findings of the Vanderbilt commission."

Federation of Work.
A joint commission from the two great Methodist churches appointed in 1902 on the closer relations which probably have a report to make, and this will bring up some discussion.
The idea seems to have got abroad that this commission was appointed with a view of bringing about a merger of the Methodist Episcopal church and the Methodist Episcopal church, south. It may be that this was the ultimate hope of a certain element in both churches, but it is a commission of federation rather than union, and its prime purpose is to harmonize the work in fields occupied jointly by the two churches. To some extent this has been done in a few of the mission fields and some progress towards federation has been made in the west where both churches are doing active work, but as to a general merger, this is at the time merely a hope of some. In fact, this commission's authority does not extend this far, but to what ends the harmoniz-ing work may lead is problematical.
The attempted organic union of the Cumberland Presbyterian with the Presbyterian church, U. S. A., and its results has to a large extent cooled the order of some of the Methodist who have long wished to see a union of the two great bodies of that denomination, and it is safe to say that no action even tending to this end will be taken at the conference. The commission on federation just met in Cincinnati.

Direction of Bishops.
It is, of course, a matter of impossibility to select the probable six men yet there is still a lot of guessing going on, and it looks like a sure thing that the six men will be selected from the following list: Drs. W. F. Tillett, Tennessee; W. H. Lambuth, Tennessee; Collins Denny, Virginia;

J. C. Kilgore, North Carolina; W. F.
Murray, Mississippi; W. F. McMurry, Louisville; J. A. Cannon, Mississippi; H. M. Dullabaugh, Mississippi; Gross Alexander, Kentucky; B. H.
Wainwright, St. Louis; John A. Rice, New Orleans; H. G. Waterhouse, Holston; Frank N. Parker, Louisiana; W. C. McCoy, Alabama.

Daily Advocate.
Dr. John M. Moore of St. Louis has been appointed editor of the Daily Advocate to be issued during the session of the conference, and he has appointed Dr. J. A. Anderson of Arkansas as his assistant. And it may be of interest to know that Dr. Moore is a strong tip for a connectional office.

Before an audience of over 500 Masons, the sublime degree of master mason was exemplified on a class last night at the Fraternity building with Grand Master John H. Previous to the lodge meeting, a supper was served at the Palmer house at which the past masters were present. Those present were: Grand Master John Cowles, Past Grand Masters J. E. Wilhelm, Dr. J. Dodd, pastor of the First Baptist church, at the parsonage, 930 Jefferson street. The ceremony was witnessed by only a few intimate friends of the couple. No invitations were issued and only a few friends knew of the approaching marriage.

The bride is the second daughter of Mrs. Elizabeth Henton, 1305 South Eighth street, and is a popular young woman of the south side. She was formerly cashier of the Hackett store, and has a large number of friends. McIntosh-Moneymaker.

The marriage of Miss May McIntosh and Mr. Hugh Moneymaker was solemnized last night at the Second Baptist church in the presence of a large number of friends. The pastor, the Rev. G. B. Smalley, officiated. The attendants were Miss Bertha McIntosh and Mr. Bart Putney. After the ceremony an informal reception was held.

Brilliant Afternoon Reception.

Beautiful in every detail of its appointments was the reception on Wednesday afternoon from 4 until 6 o'clock, given by Mrs. H. P. Sights and Miss Ethel Sights in honor of their houseguest, Mrs. Thomas Loak, of Hopkinsville.

The Sights home, which is exceedingly attractive, was charming with ferns and palms, a profusion of sunlax and pink carnations artistically arranged. All the lights were rose shaded, lending an exquisite glow to the charming scene. Little Miss Lena Utterback was a pretty greeting of welcome at the door, receiving the cards of the callers. In the hall were: Mrs. J. H. Bartee, Mrs. J. C. Utterback and Miss Manie Cobb.

Receiving with Mrs. Sights and Miss Ethel Sights in the drawing room were: Mrs. Long, Mrs. Victor Voris, Mrs. Charles Riker, Mrs. R. W. In the dining room were: Mrs. Campbell Flournoy and Mrs. King Brooks, assisted by a bevy of attractive girls: Misses Hazel McCandless, Lillian Abbott, Helen Van Meter, Nella Hatfield, Elizabeth Boswell, Rosebud Hobson. The round table was veiled in a cover of Duchess lace. In the center was an artistically arranged gold and crystal basket of lilies-of-the-valley and pink carnations on a round mirror. Ferns and sunlax surrounded the mirror. Four tall crystal candelabras with pink candles and rose shades lighted the table. Pink and white mints in crystal compotes emphasized the color-note. The delicious asaf and ice course carried out the rose motif.

In the hall opening out of the dining room an attractive alcove was arranged to represent a fernery. The cool grotto effect was charmingly carried out with ferns and

GOING FROM PLACE TO PLACE

Did Not Help Mrs. Warren, of McComb City, to Get Rid of Her Troubles, But Cardui Did.

McComb City, Miss.—"I feel it my duty to tell you," says Mrs. Manie E. Warren of this city, "how much good Cardui has done for me."

"Eight years ago, I had typhoid fever, and my health has been bad ever since."

I tried all kinds of medicines and even went from place to place, but could find no relief.

I had nervous spells and weak spells. I was not able to even look after my house, and I suffered such terrible pains in my stomach and bowels.

I read about Cardui, the woman's tonic and bought a bottle. It did me so much good that I kept on taking it and I am better now than I have been, since I had typhoid fever, am able to look after my house and feel like a new woman."

Those who have tried Cardui know the most about it. If you need a tonic, won't you take advantage of the experience gained by others and see if it will not do the same for you?

shaded lights. Rose punch was served here by Mrs. Guy Martin, assisted by Miss Jane Stevenson and Miss Lillian Hobson.

An orchestra on the landing of the stairway played during the afternoon.

There was a crush of guests during the hour and the striking reception to the callers and the receiving party added to the beauty of the occasion.

An informal dance as given by Miss Ethel Sights in the evening, following the reception. A limited number of Miss Sights' friends in the younger set enjoyed the occasion.

The house was attractively decorated with potted plants, and a color scheme of green and white was carried out in the decorations. It was a quiet affair with no attendants. Miss Nell Thompson, a cousin of the bride, played the Mendelssohn wedding march as the couple entered the parlor. A bank of palms made a pretty background for the bridal party.

After the wedding an informal reception was held. In the dining room where punch was served, the decorations consisted of palms and snowballs. At the punch bowl, Miss Beulah Thompson, sister of the bride, and Miss Jessie Farley, sister of the bridegroom, presided.

Roark as president of the Eastern State Normal school in Richmond, Dr. E. George Payne, formerly principle of the high school, presented her with a beautiful loving cup. In presenting the cup, Dr. Payne said:
"There are two kinds of deeds which win the admiration of men; deeds of heroism and deeds of service. The world adores its hero, it bows down at his feet; it responds to his voice, and counts itself fortunate if it may add any lustre to his crown of glory and renown; this has been true in all history.

Why Leaders Are Idolized.
"The nations have sought out men and women for qualities of leadership, and idolized them, and so we have the Moses of the Israelites, Alexander of the Macedonians." Cen-sars of Romans and countless others who have written their names indelibly upon the historic scroll of fame.
Likewise deeds of service win admiration and applause.

"There are few of us who are willing to labor for the love of service alone, there are fewer of us who are willing to put aside our selfish interests to serve our fellow man, to offer our lives to him, yet there is not one who does not admire the deed in others.

"When both of these deeds are united in one person then the beneficiaries of the heroism and service are obligated with a lasting debt of gratitude and admiration. And this, fellow teachers, is the attitude of our mind. It is the feeling of those students, of the supporters of this school, of the citizens of this state.
Or is he any less a true servant than the Frenchman whose motto is: To work without money and be poor, and to labor under orders and be obedient."

"It is no wonder, then, that the faculty, in order to show our thorough appreciation of the faithful labor of his worthy acting president, Mrs. Roark, upon the termination of her term, we desire to offer the following as an expression of our esteem and confidence and as a remembrance of her cordial treatment and fair guidance as our superior officer in this institution, enthusiastically present you this loving cup as a token of this gratitude and esteem."

"We want to assure you, Mrs.
Roark that this outward sign is no adequate expression of the heart. As we supported you in the past, we with the same spirit will remember you in the future. 'Ah, you may shatter the vase if you will, but the spirit of the roses will cling round it still."

Her Call to Service.
"About one year ago, through an all-wise Providence, this institution was robbed of its noble president, that native Kentuckian who knew nothing but service, who loved education, but education in his own state best, and he gave his life for it. His task of office fell.

"In that dark hour his successor was called to his post of duty, she responded willingly, in this period of storm and stress she has worn the robe of office, with fortitude, with courage and with efficiency. What one of us strong men could have borne the office with success under these conditions?

"Yet this little woman, because she loved the school better than she loves herself, because she loves service better than praise, in spite of all

"HEALTH! WHEE! I'M WELL AGAIN"

"See him dance! He is free from the tortures of rheumatism and weak kidneys and bladder. His muscles and joints are supple, limber, strong, the soreness is all gone, the pain and stiffness are gone, the trouble working in his joints, backache is gone, headache is gone, he can sleep fine. His bladder is strong and acts properly.
He never has to get up in the night now. He awakes in the morning feeling good, his long, natural, peaceful, restful sleep has refreshed him.
His eyes are bright, his brain is clear, he can enjoy life. He never suffers any more from too frequent urination, highly-colored or scalding urine. He never worries about tonight's dinner now, never worries about the danger of diabetes, for his kidneys and bladder are acting fine. Every single trace of his trouble has gone—rheumatism and all."

Anyone can be just as free from these, just as healthy, just as hearty, happy, contented.
When rheumatism bothers you, or the kidneys and bladder get out of order, all you need do is take a few doses of Backus' Globes. You'll get relief almost before you realize it.
Even a few doses will be enough to show you that there is at least one remedy that can act with speed and ease upon these ills. If you are tired of suffering, if you really want to feel well just as quickly as possible, if you want to enjoy this short life on earth, if you want health, if you want happiness, contentment, you can have it. It will cost only fifty cents to prove to yourself, to your own satisfaction that all these are yours.
There is no doubt about it, for Backus' Globes will weed out rheumatism and correct out-of-order kidneys and bladder quicker than anything you can take. You need only to try it, to take the first few doses to be sure of it.

Just drop in to Gilbert's Drug Store, Fourth and Broadway, or some other good drug store, and get a box, or send fifty cents in the United States Money Order. You'll get it. Every moment of delay just means that much longer to suffer.
Why not start right now, right this minute, to get well?

the prejudice against a woman occupying such a place, rose to the occasion and achieved success.

Carried Work to Fruition.
"She has carried to fruition her work and has now laid aside her official robe for other service. Then am I wrong in saying that one who accomplishes such tasks is any less a hero than he who lead armies to victories?"

Herald Pays Compliment.
Editorially the Lexington Herald pays a tribute to the ability of Dr.
Payne, who less than a year ago became connected with the school. In part the editorial says:

"It is fortunate that Mrs. Roark will retain her connection with the school. Through the co-operation of such leaders in education as President Crabbe, Mrs. Roark and Dr. E.
George Payne, great things should be accomplished for Eastern Kentucky. In fact all Kentucky, through the work of the Eastern State Normal."

BIG REVIVAL

INTEREST GROWING IN MEET-INGS THIS WEEK.

Fair Weather Increases Attendance at Fountain Avenue Methodist Church.

The revival meeting at Fountain Avenue Methodist church is growing in attendance and interest. The Rev. P. G. Throgmorton, of Sikeston, Mo., is doing the preaching to the delight of all who hear him.
Mr. Throgmorton is a schoolmate of the pastor of the church and is one of the most attractive speakers that the Paducah people have had an opportunity to hear in a long while.
For four years he was stationed at Jefferson street church, Louisville, and was transferred from there to Missouri and is filling his fourth year there. Services at 10:30 a. m. and 7:45 p. m. Now that the weather has brightened up it is expected that the attendance will be good. The meeting will continue through the week and probably through next week also.

Is Casey Still Waiting.
"What's this I hear about Casey?" asked McGinnis.
"He's been trying to asphyxiate himself," said O'Reilly.

NINE ELEPHANTS ON A STAMPEDE

INJURED EIGHT PEOPLE AND DAMAGED PROPERTY.

Uprooted Many Trees Broke Down Fences, Stepping For Nothing But Thick Walls.

ONE WAS STILL AT LARGE.

Danville, Ill., April 28.—Several persons were injured and much property damaged when eight bulls and female elephant of the Ringling show stampeded here.

The pachyderms were being unloaded when one of the bulls made a stamp for liberty, followed by seven other bulls. While the trainers and keepers endeavored to keep the bulls in automobiles, the female escaped.

The elephants were at large several hours with the police and reserves in pursuit. The elephants moved for some time in a bunch, then separated. They stopped for nothing except brick and stone buildings.
Small frame structures, coal sheds, fences and trees were pushed aside turned over, uprooted and tossed about.

At the home of Joseph Peebles, after killing a horse, one of the animals attacked Peebles and hurled him against the side of the residence.
He is in a critical condition.

F. Krabbe, one of the keepers, while taking three of the bulls into quarters after capturing them, was hurled against a barn and severely injured.

Other persons were slightly injured when horses became frightened or thrown by fright during the stampede.

It is estimated that more than a hundred houses were damaged by the elephants. Probably the aggregate damage was $10,000.

Truck gardens and orchards suffered. Late this evening one elephant is still at large.

Sunday Night Services When Byron King Will Appear in the Broad-

Last night the session of the First Presbyterian church decided to dispense with the evening service next Sunday in order that the newly organized men's bible class, which will assemble for the first time at 9:30 a. m., and the congregation may worship at the Broadway Methodist church. At that time Byron King, the famous bible reader, will occupy the pulpit, and Mr. W. J.
Hills will deliver an address on "The Business Man and His Bible." The men's class of the Broadway church will attend in a body, and it is probable the men's class of the Presbyterian church also will attend in a body.

Compound after his efforts had failed,
"Mrs. Weber, I do not believe in patent the best medicine ever discovered for women. Continue to use it." This is another link in the long chain of evidence to prove the reliability of this standard medicine for women.

Plants in a Bedroom.

Although the presence of plants in sleeping apartments, so long as they are exposed to the action of the sun's light, tend to increase health, owing to the quality of oxygen they exhale, yet at night they should always be removed, as during the darkness they give off, instead of oxygen, carbonic acid gas, which produces the most injurious effect on the system, even when respired only in small quantities. The reason plants produce another effect when exposed to the light than when in darkness has been attributed to New York Press.

S.S.S. CURES SKIN DISEASES

The skin is composed of two distinct layers. One is known as the epidermis, or outer skin, which has no fibres, and serves principally as a covering to the body, and a protection from outward dangers to the delicate flesh beneath. The other layer is known as the derma, or true skin, and is composed of elastic fibres, fat tissue, glands, lymphatics, nerves, etc. The thousands of tiny veins and arteries with which it is interlaced constantly supply every fibre and tissue with healthful properties from the circulation to keep the skin smooth and perfect.

This is changed, however, when the blood becomes infected with humors, acids or impurities. Instead of constantly supplying rich, nutritive properties to the skin, the circulation deposits the acid impurity with which it is contaminated, into the sensitive fibres and tissues. This causes irritation and inflammation, which splits or breaks the thin outer cuticle, while the tissues beneath ulcerate and discharge upon the surface in the form of Eczema, Salt Rheum, Tetter, etc. There is likewise a dry form of skin diseases, such as Acne, Psoriasis, etc. In these varieties the humor in the blood diseases and influences the glands, hair follicles, etc., causing them to swell and protrude to the outer surface. Pimples, rashes, eruptions and like troubles, are all dependent on imperfect blood, and no one can have a good complexion, free from humiliating blemishes, unless the skin is kept healthy by good blood.

S.S.S. cures Skin Diseases of every kind by neutralizing the acids and removing the humors from the blood.
It cools the acid-heated circulation, builds it up to normal strength, multiplies its rich, nutritious corpuscles, and adds to its purity in every way.
Then the skin, instead of being irritated, inflamed and diseased by acid impurities or fiery humors, is nourished, soothed and softened by a cooling, healthy stream of blood. S.S.S. is the greatest of all blood purifiers, and therein lies its ability to cure skin diseases. Book on Skin Diseases and medical advice free.

MILLIONS LOST THROUGH GRAFT

SUIT FILED IN U. S. COURT AGAINST PROMOTERS.

Operated in Many Cities. Negotiated Stocks and Bonds in Fifteen Different Corporations.

UNEARTH BIG MINING FRAUD.

Cheyenne, Wyo., April 28.—Through a suit in the United States court here against promoters who have been negotiating stock and bonds of fifteen different corporations, with a capital stock aggregating over $31,000,000, charges were made public today that the promoters have obtained millions of dollars fraudulently.

The complaint comes up in a civil action dealing with the operators of the promoters of valuable mining, railway, tramway, smelting, pipe line and mercantile companies of the Encampment district being directed especially against E. W. Cobb, E. A. Norton, E. B. Draper, A. L. Hawse, L. N. Pennock and other promoters of the Penn-Wyoming Copper company and the United Smelters railway and copper company, which took over the property of the Penn-Wyoming Copper company and a large number of subsidiary companies.

The case comes up first in arguments for permission to file an intervening petition in a receivership case recently heard in the United States court here. This prayer was granted yesterday and the petition filed.

Many Cities Interested. Mining and stock operations, extending over the last ten years in nearly every state of the union, are involved. Big bond houses in several of the large cities are interested in the case.

The companies involved are: United Smelters Railway and Copper company.

Penn-Wyoming Copper company. North American Copper company. Saratoga and Encampment Railway company.

Encampment Smelting company. Encampment Pipe Line Ditch company.

Emerson Electric Light company. Encampment Tramway company.

Encampment Waterworks company.

Encampment Land and Townsite company.

Battle Lake Tunnel Site Mining company.

Haggerty Copper Mining company. Carbondale Coal company.

Equitable Securities company, incorporated under the laws of Illinois.

It is charged in the complaint that Cobb, Norton and Draper conspired as directors and officers of all these corporations and manipulated them for their own profit and to the detriment of the rights of the old stockholders.

I. C. CHANGES

More changes have been made in the operating of the Illinois Central railroad. Dispatch says: The reorganization of the operating department of the Illinois Central was practically completed yesterday when several additional changes were officially announced. In connection with the changes the management strenuously denied that any of them had any connection with the graft investigation. It was stated that considerable economy of operation had been effected. The Birmingham and the New Orleans terminal divisions are wiped out, the former becoming a part of the Tennessee division and the latter a part of the Louisiana division.

Following are the changes announced: Harry E. Safford, resigned as chief engineer of maintenance of ways to accept the position of vice president of Edgar A. Allen & Co., of Sheffield, England. The position of chief engineer of maintenance of ways is abolished and Lewis W. Baldwin has been appointed engineer of maintenance of ways. Lawrence A.
